

The Sacred Divine Masculine & The Sacred Divine Feminine

Understanding who we are

Table of Contents

UNDERSTANDING AND HONORING WHO WE ARE .....	1
Defining Male and Female.....	1
Host Possession and Sexuality .....	2
Defining Masculine and Feminine .....	4
TRAITS OF SACRED ENERGIES .....	6
Divine Masculine .....	7
Divine Feminine .....	9
PURPOSE OF THE JOURNEY .....	12

UNDERSTANDING AND HONORING WHO WE ARE

Defining Male and Female

There is no valid confusion with regard to male and female, for they are genetic, and they are expressed in human beings as specific physiological characteristics. The purpose of male and female is equally simple: procreation through sexual reproduction.

Host Possession and Sexuality

The cause of what is currently labeled sexual orientation and transgenderism has been obscured, despite its identification decades ago by psychologists, and centuries ago by indigenous groups that referred to those exhibiting non-heterosexual tendencies as "two-spirits." Past lifetimes and their traumas can also complicate one's experience of gender, but here we will seek to understand those who have a non-corporeal attachment — an unseen energy being living vicariously through the corporeal host. When this being is of the opposite sex, the host may be attracted to members of their own sex and/or otherwise experience a sense of not fitting into their own male or female body.

In the early twentieth century, de-possession was the treatment used successfully by many psychologists who freed their patients of the influence of parasitic entities, whether that influence was expressed as sexual preference, addiction, violence, or other traits. However, the pharmaceutical industry promoted drugs as the primary treatment for all maladies, with the co-opted medical establishment adopting surgery and other invasive treatments as the only alternatives.

A fact suppressed for some time is that many human beings have unknowingly become bound to beings without bodies — beings that hunger for physical existence and that attach themselves to the unwary in order to siphon energy and thereby experience the pleasures of physicality. Any who suspect they may have such a "hitchhiker" can deny consent to be attached by any non-corporeal entity.

In the words of a child who suffered such an invasion: "I love you, but you have to go now." The child repeated that mantra nightly and, thanks to the Universal Law of free will, the entity had to leave.

Non-corporeal entities do try to use fear or inducements or trickery to keep or renew the connection to the host, including through dreams, but they must obey if the host or potential host continues to deny consent. Note that living, corporeal people can also bind others, effectively becoming energy vampires, whether on the astral level in dreams or on the unconscious level, often through "pressing one's buttons" of guilt or shame, fear or anger in waking interaction.

Regardless of the form parasitic energy harvesting may take, human beings always have ultimate control and power through denial of consent. Prevention is achieved through learning to shield one's energy field and through addressing traumas and other weaknesses that affect the psi field.

Defining Masculine and Feminine

Men and women are not the same in terms of their physical, emotional, and mental characteristics, nor in their respective roles in procreation, but they are equally valuable members of the human race.

Although various cultures have imposed roles and have designated characteristics they define as masculine and feminine, coercing men and women to adapt to cultural expectations of behavior in order to fit into society and also excusing devaluation of women in particular, masculinity and femininity are more accurately defined as qualities of energy.

In reality, all human males and females have within them both forms of energy — the masculine and the feminine. The difference is only a matter of the relative proportion, and that proportion is unique to each individual. Thus, not only do men tend to have a greater percentage of masculine energy and women a greater percentage of feminine energy, but individual men may have a greater share of masculine energy than others, and individual women may have a greater amount of feminine energy than others.

There is no right or wrong amount or proportion of sex energy as an isolated quality. Balance is not quantity of masculine or feminine energies, but the true acceptance within each individual of his or her natural traits.

To paraphrase a line from a movie, "Source loves infinite variety." That being said, while we each must recognize and honor variations among us, the goal of soul development is to achieve and integrate at 45/55 balance of all energies in the soul/spirit package to include the balance of the masculine and feminine within us. As within, so without: This also goes for any pairing of male and female energies combined and embodied in two people in sacred union with Source.

TRAITS OF SACRED ENERGIES

The Divine Masculine and Divine Feminine are not something we become; they are something we are. In accepting, embracing, and integrating these qualities, we allow ourselves to be the true versions of ourselves.

Divine Masculine

The most common traits of the masculine are the protector and the warrior.

The Divine Masculine man is guardian of the family, tribe, group, or people. As the protector and warrior he must show courage and be fearless in his pursuit of his calling and status as the protector.

He stands in power — not external power but internal power and strength. He learns to understand his power and endeavors never to abuse it.

He brings calm, harmony, and peace to every situation he faces, with the fierce inner determination of protecting at all costs. He deals with all types of conflicts in a balanced manner and exhibits no anger, rage, or weakness. He seeks to resolve issues, concerns, and conflicts, not escalate them.

He teaches the other males not yet ready for full responsibilities how to be, how to act, and how to engage, by setting the example.

He is the beacon of trust for those he is designated to protect. He becomes a pillar of the family, tribe, group, or people by caring, nurturing, and supporting all of those around him. He brings confidence, trust, and surety to all.

He behaves with the utmost respect, and he shows honor to all around him and to all who put their trust and faith in him.

He acts at all times with decency, common courtesy, and integrity. He speaks and operates in truth and honesty at all times.

He acts with a purpose, shows strength, is responsible, and demonstrates good leadership qualities. He leads not with an iron fist, but with a calmness, openness, and assured manner, and in cooperation with the all. He acts in kindness, consideration, and love.

He recognizes, protects, and honors the Divine aspect of the feminine, so that they may complement and embrace each other as equals.

Divine Feminine

Like her Masculine counterpart, the Divine Feminine comes in all sizes, shapes, and colors.

She is whole, perfect, beautiful, joyful, blissful, harmonious, kind, inspiring, confident, adventurous, fun, and nurturing.

She is a creator, a leader in her own right, equal, and full of wisdom. She is elegant and graceful, with a touch of wildness, and may be a tomboy at times of fancy.

She is one with the Divine Love, which is the Oneness of the all.

She starts off as the little girl with charm and innocence and curiosity for life around her, being full of joy and wonder. Her laughter trickles across the pathways as she dances her way into the magical world of life.

She approaches adolescence with dignity and cherishes her growing body. She discovers her unique talents with love and care that brings much joy in her heart. She learns about her Divine Mind and the Oneness with the all. She remains joyful and full of life in this new experience of being.

As a young woman, she learns her body is a temple to be cherished and respected on all levels. When she enters a room, she shines her very unique special star with an elegance and grace that is felt by all. She reaches new heights of inspiration in unity with the Oneness of it all, her creativity and her being now on a higher level of maturity.

No longer is it done that a woman has to marry or bare children just because that is the thing to do. No, the Divine Feminine follows her bliss, her joy, what makes her heart sing with delight and dance with vitality. New adventures are the way forward to self-discovery on every level.

No longer required to have many to find her one true love, she honors the Divine Masculine and knows her love-mate will match her frequency in a special connection with the purity of Divine Love at their heart points. The two united become the Oneness with the all — and how their hearts beat to the rhythm of joy, bliss, and Divine Love! Seeking to love, inspire, nurture, care, make love from pureness and new adventures, to experience the total fullness of life and joy together in unity and respect for one another and creativity on a whole new level, they experience the being of pure love.

As she reaches the maturity level of the Divine Feminine, she remains young at heart and full of life, continuing to explore the even more wonders of life on a different level of creativity. Life experiences do not end or become stagnant. There are endless possibilities to become, enjoy, and experience the fullness of life on every level of being with the Oneness of the all and with her love-mate.

When the times arrives to end this game of life, she gracefully and happily leaves her smile behind and returns home, from whence she came before she decided to come to planet Earth to experience the absolute enjoyment of being a human.

PURPOSE OF THE JOURNEY

The mission of the Divine Masculine and Divine Feminine is to harmonize and change the vibrational frequency of this planet. It is a uniting-as-one in physical life on Earth, a journey on which to emanate unconditional Love and Divine Creativity through the process of unification and rejuvenation.

The purpose of uniting in the physical is to bring in the higher frequency of Divine Love on Earth during this period of the great frequency shift and the possibility of Ascension.

In emanating Divine Love, the union of Divine Masculine and Divine Feminine frequencies is also establishing a new way for HU-mans (Higher Universal man) to join in soul-mate sacred unions. This is a pathway beyond the fear-based third-dimensional relationship template of conflict, control, and separation that manifests in co-dependent relationships. The sacred union of the Divine Masculine and Divine Feminine is a partnership in a pure harmonic flow of unconditional Love. It is a frequency on a higher dimension being anchored here.

The union of the Divine Masculine and Divine Feminine is about the freedom of love and trust, developing understanding that goes beyond conditional expectations. It is a pathway of Divine surrender to a new pure harmony and creativity. Note that it is a pathway, a journey, not a get-out-of-jail-free card.

There is no hierarchy within this true system. Everything is equal, everything in balance, everything in harmony and harmonic. So, together we become the beacons we were always meant to be.

Thank you for reading

thi-show.com